DETAILED ACTION

Specification

- a) The status of the parent application, 09-910,540, should be updated on the first page of the specification.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 1 is are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

- a) A broad range or limitation together with a narrow range or limitation that falls within the broad range or limitation (in the same claim) is considered indefinite, since the resulting claim does not clearly set forth the metes and bounds of the patent protection desired. See MPEP § 2173.05(c). Note the explanation given by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences in Ex parte Wu, 10 USPQ2d 2031, 2033 (Bd. Pat. App. & Inter. 1989), as to where broad language is followed by "such as" and then narrow language. The Board stated that this can render a claim indefinite by raising a question or doubt as to whether the feature introduced by such language is (a) merely exemplary of the remainder of the claim, and therefore not required, or (b) a required feature of the claims. Note also, for example, the decisions of Ex parte Steigewald, 131 USPQ 74 (Bd. App. 1961); Ex parte Hall, 83 USPQ 38 (Bd. App. 1948); and Ex parte

Art Unit: 1754

Hasche, 86 USPQ 481 (Bd. App. 1949). In the present instance, claim 1 recites the broad recitation that the purge stream contains at least about 20% sodium carbonate, and the claim also recites that the purge stream typically contains 30% sodium carbonate which is the narrower statement of the range/limitation.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by U. S. Patent 6,428,759 B1 to Smith et al.

The Smith patent discloses a process for producing sodium bicarbonate (please see col. 10 lines 7-9), comprising:

Dissolving a sodium bicarbonate trona ore in a solution to form a brine;

Neutralizing the brine;

Dissolving calcined trona in said neutralized brine to form a feed liquor;

Introducing the feed liquor into a sodium carbonate monohydrate crystallizer

(please see claims 1 and 2 in U. S. Patent 6,428,759);

Sending the monohydrate mother liquor purge stream to a sodium decahydrate crystallizer (please see col. 9 lines 58-59);

Melting the sodium carbonate decahydrate crystals to produce a solution containing about 30% by weight of sodium carbonate (please see col. 9 line 67 to col. 10 line 5), and Carbonating the solution formed by melting the crystals to produce sodium bicarbonate, which can be separated and recovered as a product (please see col. 10 lines 7-10).

Please note that it would be inherent that the total amount of waste water from the production of sodium bicarbonate and also from the production of sodium carbonate decahydrate would be less than the amount of effluent stream from the production of sodium carbonate due to mass balance.

Also, please note that the same sodium bicarbonate from the same process will inherently have the same purity.

The following reference, which is indicative of the state of the art, is made of record:

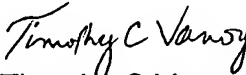

U. S. Patent App'n. Pub. No. US 2002/0192140 A1 disclosing a process for the preparation of soda ash from solution mined bicarbonate brines.
